ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Charlene Moorer is a national board– certified and licensed professional counselor with a graduate degree from Pace University and a private practice in Connecticut. She has been practicing in the field for over twenty years in various capacities and positions. She is devoted to the field of psychology and the humanities, serving hundreds of patients at her practice—CDM Counseling & Consultation Services, LLC. Her work with youth and families as the former program director at The Bridge Family Center inspires her work in practice and, coupled with her current vocation, prompted the writing of this book. She also runs a small spiritual and Bible study group with co-facilitator Maria Cavaiuolo. When she is not working, she dedicates time to her family, maintaining positive self-care, and engaging in philanthropic efforts. To learn more about the author, you can find her on LinkedIn or visit her website: <https://cdmcounselingllc.com>. We hope you enjoy reading this uplifting book and feel free to share with others!
